

Special Conditions of Supervision

1. The defendant shall reside for six months at a Residential Reentry Center (RRC) as directed by the probation officer and shall observe the rules of that facility. The Court recommends the Volunteers of America in Evansville, Indiana.
2. The defendant shall participate in a program of mental health treatment as directed by the probation officer.
3. The defendant shall participate in a program of treatment for sexual disorders and shall comply with the rules of the treatment program. The defendant shall pay a portion of the costs in accordance with his/her ability to pay. The Court authorizes the release of the presentence report and available psychological records to the treatment provider, as approved by the probation officer.
4. The defendant shall submit to routine polygraph examinations, as directed by the probation officer.
5. The defendant shall not possess any pornography, erotica or nude images if the same is detrimental to his/her treatment progress as determined by the treatment provider. Any such material found in the defendant's possession shall be considered contraband and may be confiscated by the probation officer.
6. The defendant shall not possess or use a computer, including any Internet-enabled device, unless approved by the probation officer. If approved, the defendant agrees to comply with the Computer Restriction and Monitoring Program as directed by the probation officer. The defendant is responsible for the costs associated with the monitoring program. The defendant shall advise the probation officer of all computers available for his/her use. The defendant shall warn other users of the existence of the monitoring software placed on the computer(s). Any computer or Internet-enabled device may be considered contraband and subject to confiscation.
7. The defendant shall not have unsupervised contact with a minor child unless approved by the Court. Supervised contact with a minor child must be approved in advance by the probation officer.
8. The defendant shall register as a sex offender with the appropriate authorities of any state in which he/she resides, is employed, or attends school.
9. The defendant shall submit to the search of his/her person, vehicle, office/business, residence and property, including computer systems and Internet-enabled devices, whenever the probation officer has a reasonable suspicion that a violation of a condition of supervision or other unlawful conduct may have occurred or be underway involving the defendant. Other law enforcement may assist as necessary. The defendant shall submit to the seizure of any contraband that is found, and should forewarn other occupants or users that the property may be subject to being searched.
